HOC SIGNO FORTUNA.

BALTIMORE, TUESDAY, Jan. 2, 1821.

YESTERDAY, New-Year's day, agreeably to the notice heretofore given, the drawing of the MONUMENT LOTTERY, fourth class, took place, and again have distant adventurers been rewarded with their usual full proportion of the Capital prizes. The 40,000 dollar prize was sent in a whole ticket to Boston, where also the 2,000 dollar prize was sent. The 10,000 dollar Capital was divided in shares at COHEN'S OFFICE, one quarter of which also fell to the luck of a distant adventurer, a gentleman in Cambridge, Ohio, to whom we had the pleasure of sending the fortunate ticket, on the 10th of last month. The other prizes were variously distributed—some of them being owned in Baltimore, and several are held in distant places. The drawing of this scheme is another to the many instances already given at various times of the extraordinary fortunate results of investments made by our friends in the country. On our fourth page will be found the Manager's Official prize list—such Nos. as are not to be found on the list are blanks.

Adventurers holding prize tickets, purchased at Cohen's Office, will please forward them for payment, the cash will be immediately remitted, or the amount will be invested in the Consolidation Lottery, if instructions are sent to do so.

Adventurers be on the alert.

The Grand Consolidation, or TENTH drawing of the Cathedral Lottery will take place in the City of Baltimore when prizes to the amount of Eighty-five Thousand Dollars will be distributed, composing SIX HUNDRED and FIFTY prizes, all payable without discount—the list of which will be found on the 3rd page of this day's Gazette. It will be recollected that this grand drawing is formed by the Consolidation of the Twenty-five Dollar Prizes drawn during the first nine days, and we congratulate such of our friends who hold them, that by the excellent and deservedly popular arrangement of the Scheme of the Cathedral Lottery, that although they have failed of success in procuring higher prizes, they still have a chance for a Capital on that day: thus giving to them an additional opportunity of procuring an independence.

We have been ourselves fortunate in obtaining a few Tickets for that drawing, a part of which we shall divide in shares, and which will be ready for sale this week at the rate of Twenty-five Dollars per Whole Ticket—Shares in the same proportion. Speedy application ought to be made, to prevent disappointment, as they will necessarily become very scarce, in consequence of the large number already in the hands of adventurers, and who will be unwilling to sell them. All letters, either by mail or private opportunity, with Orders for Consolidation Tickets, will receive prompt attention, directed to

J. I. COHEN, Jr.

Secretary to the Managers....BALTIMORE.

Adventurers in the late Cathedral Lottery, are desired to recollect that agreeably to the scheme, the prizes only were drawn, therefore all such numbers as have not appeared in the official lists, are consequently Blanks, having remained in the wheel till after the prizes were distributed, which occupied the nine drawings.—

Those who have drawn twenty-five dollar prizes, are informed that the consolidation drawing will take place on the 24th of next month.

From Sierra-Leone.

The United States ship Cyane, Capt Trenchard which was sent out by our government, about one year since with a number of people of colour, to effect a settlement in Africa, has returned, and has had a passage of 67 days from Sierra-Leone. From her officers we learn that the adventurers have not succeeded either in obtaining any lands, or even any encouragement that they shall obtain them at any future day. The natives had got possession of the goods sent out by the colonization society to purchase lands, and the agents after that could not obtain the least satisfaction.—They were told at one time, that a general talk should take place among the chiefs of the tribes and head men who had authority to dispose of the land for a settlement, and at other times they could do nothing. Every artifice was practised to dupe the agents and it seems not without success. About thirty adventurers all of them people of colour, and also 6 white men and a boy, perished in May and June, and it supposed the remainder have removed to a British settlement, called Cape Shilling, offered them by the government of Sierra-Leone. Left Coker on board a schooner there waiting for goods from the government, to enable him to renew the negotiation for land.

NEW-YORK, December 30.

Latest from Europe.

By the Hector, in 38 days from Liverpool, we have received our London files to the 17th Nov. The most important intelligence they furnish is the abandonment by the Ministry of the Bill of Pains and Penalties against the Queen. The vote on the third reading of the bill in the House of Lords having shown the Ministry from the defection of their supporters, that it could not be carried by a requisite majority, Lord Liverpool moved that its consideration be postponed six months, which was carried by acclamation in the House of Lords, and received throughout England with enthusiastic exultation. London was splendidly illuminated for two successive nights, and the demonstrations of joy in all the principal towns were equally unequivocal. The result may justly be considered a popular triumph over the government, and as the first step in; the reformation, or revolution, which so long looked for is at length at hand.

The small majority on the third reading of the bill, may be considered an acquittal, as of the hundred and eight Peers who voted for it, two are of the Royal Family, and eighty nine are either in the ministry, or in the pay of the Government as office holders, pensioners, &c.

Her majesty has commanded her vice chamberlain to write to Lord Liverpool to demand a palace and establishment in every respect suitable to her rank, with a view to her future residence in that country.

The Moniteur, of November 8, quotes a letter from Bordeaux, stating that Don Manuel de Barros, attached to the Spanish Legation to the United States, arrived on the 30th ult. at the house of the Spanish Consul at Bordeaux, with the treaty respecting the cession of the Floridas, which has been sanctioned by the Cortes. It is added, that he was to embark immediately on board the ship Le Rapide, for Philadelphia.

The following article we find under the head of Paris, Nov. 5.

M. Hyde de Neuville, ambassador to the Court of Brazil: has set out for Rochefort where a vessel is in readiness to convey him to the United States. His Excellency proceeds direct to Washington, and after the sitting of the American Congress he goes on to the Brazils.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 27.

Caution to the Public!

There have been, for some time past, spurious and counterfeit dollars in imitation of those of Ferdinand VII. 1817, which have been made and sold by certain persons, at the south west corner of Fifth and High-street, from Schylkill. They have been taken, and in their possession found all their implements and materials, along with a quantity of spurious dollars.

Two of them are committed for trial, and whilst in the office of Justice FREYTAG, Lewis L. Austin, a baker, made his escape. Public justice requires he should be taken and brought to trial. The dollars may easily be detected by rubbing them on the edge.

Steam-Boat Water Wheel.

Ever since the use of Steam-boat navigation, a water-wheel of which the paddles, while moving through the water, should always be at right angles to its surface, has been considered as a great desideratum; for in this case alone, the force applied would act with the greater possible advantage. Accordingly, many attempts have been made to accomplish this object; but so far as we know, all have hitherto proved abortive, or so complicated as to prevent their use.

It gives us, therefore, peculiar pleasure to announce, that we have lately seen a model of such a water wheel, the construction of which is extremely simple, being no more than the common wheel, of which the paddles are constantly kept in a vertical position. This is effected by counter cranks passing through and firmly fixed to the centres of the paddles, and through an external wheel of the same diameter with the water wheel; but moved by it round a different centre—the vertical distance of the two centres being equal to the radius of the connecting cranks.

The inventor of this ingenious device is Mr. James Prince, of Connecticut, who has, we understand, obtained a patent. [Nat. Gaz.]

INTEMPERANCE.

Doctor Mitchell, in one of his late lectures, undertook to ridicule the various denominations and classifications of drinks, with a view, not only to burlesque them, but to shew, that under whatever name they may pass, and however gilded, they still contain the same poison, the same pernicious and ruinous effects. His nomenclature, however, is so curious and droll, that we subjoin the list which was copied by a student, without specifying what latitude, in this country, his remarks were intended to apply.

Antifogmatics.

Popular remedies against external and internal fogginess.

Genus 1st. Gum Tickler warms the gums, and removes bad taste from the mouth, after sleeping.

Species 1st. Glass of G n.

2d. Dram of Bitters.

3d. Raw Slings, or any other good stuff, (Alcoholic.)

4th. Small horn of distilled cordial.

To be taken immediately on awakening, or at arthrest, on getting out of bed, to be repeated pro re nata. Should there be no fog in the morning, take the preventive, lest there should be one in the course of the day.

Genus 2d. Phlegm Cutter, for cleansing away the mucus that lines the throat, and removes thickness and hoarseness from the voice, and renders breathing and swallowing easy.

Species 1st. Egg-nogg made pure.

2d. Mint julip stiff.

3d. Brandy-sling, pretty well to the northward,

4th. Holland twist, not too weak, lest the water should curdle the phlegm.

To be taken as the fog may indicate, toties quoties, between dressing and breakfast.

Genus 3d. Gall breaker challenges the grand enemy the bile, or calls the bitter foe to health to come forth from his lurking hole to a place where his forces may be broken in fair action.

Species 1st. Grog (rum and water) 1 to 2 to overcome the insipidity or bad taste of the water.

2d. Flip (rum and beer) heated with the red hot poker until it foams.

3d. Sampson, rum and cider stewed over the coals.

4th. Toddy, grog and sugar with pulp of roasted apples.

5th. Punch, toddy with lemon juice, not too strong of the water.

6th. Bishop, rum and wine, for the benefit of both.

7th. Doctor, rum and milk, diffusible and permanent stimuli.

8th. Cocktail, rum and honey, to combine sweetness with strength.

To be taken as the state of the weather may require during the continuance of the fog.

Genus 4th. Clear Comforter employed when the feebleness agents fail to resist sufficiently the intensity of the fog without and within.

Species 1st. Tincture of bark, by the gill.

2d. Spiced wine, with ginger hot and qualified by whiskey.

3d. Cure all, rum and brandy 4th proof, equal parts heated so as to simmer, and stewed with a spoonful of red pepper to take off the chills.

There is no doubt but that the foregoing terms and denominations have materially swelled the list of drunkards and added to the number of paupers.

"Every inordinate cup is unblessed,
And the ingredient is a devil."

Distant Adventurers

Who purchase from Cohen's Office, tickets or shares to the amount of Fifty Dollars, in any of the Baltimore lotteries will be furnished with the "Register," which contains the Managers' Official lists of all the drawings regularly as they occur. The adventurer at a distance will thus be enabled to ascertain the fate of his tickets as soon as drawn, and also to know the state of the wheel from time to time, as well as other relative lottery information satisfactory to be informed of.
